

Make “Fully Booked” a Reality

→ Join ReSource!

Practitioners get into the health and wellness industry to help people heal, but often end up having to become experts in business and marketing to make a living. It can become a huge frustration. So much time is spent building a platform to find clients that you don't get to spend your days actually working with others.

ReSource has created the world's first online marketplace where purpose-driven businesses can trade with one another using cryptocurrency. And health and wellness services are a cornerstone of our network.

When you join ReSource, we'll send clients to you. But instead of getting paid in US dollars, you are rewarded with ReSource Dollars. You can spend ReSource Dollars on organic produce, supplements, financial consulting, website development, and many other things that you regularly buy with US dollars on our marketplace.

ReSource is all about utilizing decentralized money to create the kind of economy we all want to be a part of — one where dollars circulate inside our local communities, instead of funneling back to large corporations, and anyone can prosper as long as they have something valuable to offer.

This is your invitation to join the crypto revolution and to grow your health and wellness business while doing it!
